

Mr. Ladislav Farago

Dear Mr. Farago,

Thank you for your private and confidential letter of November 24 addressed to Mr. Colby.

It seems like a good idea. Why don't we start off by getting together? Next time you are in Washington, perhaps you would care to drop out to see me at Langley. We could get a little better focus on the thing and see to what degree we can help.

Sincerely,

I am planning to give a general overview of the intelligence Army's close evolution from 1945 to 1960. I will describe closely as a part of the history of some of the major and minor Dallas called "The Craft" safely could. I am confident that the opportunity of getting at least some of the information will contribute to a sense of perspective and a sense of responsibility in our minds toward and appreciation of the security in general and the CIA in particular.

in writing this to explain why I did not object to our the for the approval of everything I have said you is with me in answer to your assurance that you will be delighted to meet me on your convenience, both in the fall and in the summer. I would be much obliged if you would let me know when and where you are making plans to appear and how you wish to be introduced in the winter.
